A young, well educated & productive workforce

Ireland's young workforce is capable, highly adaptable, mobile and very committed to achievement. With over 50% of its population under 35, Ireland's dependency ratio is among the most favourable in Europe.

Ireland ranks first in the world for the availability of skills and fourth for the quality of its education system, according to the IMD World Competitiveness report. Ireland also has one of the best higher education systems in the world. Shannon is on the door of four prestigious universities and colleges – University College Limerick (UL), Limerick Institute of Technology (LIT), University College Galway (UCG) and Galway Mayo Institute of Technology (GMIT).

One of the lowest corporate tax rates in Europe

Corporate tax rates have been one of the principal elements of the favourable enterprise environment in Ireland. The Irish tax regime is open and transparent and complies fully with OECD guidelines and EU competition law.

Highly developed infrastructure

Over the past twenty years the Irish Government has implemented successive programs of infrastructure development and investment.

National transport investment programs have seen a rapid improvement in Ireland's road and motorway network to promote sustainable national economic and employment growth, while strengthening Ireland's international competitiveness.

The Shannon Region has a highly developed transport infrastructure.

There are daily connections from Shannon Airport to Britain, Europe and North America. Direct routes to North America include Boston, Chicago, Newark NY, JFK NY and Philadelphia.
